

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Emerging Author, C. J. Fain, published a collection of dark stories titled Terrible Tales for the adult and young adult audience.

ORLANDO, FL - May, 20, 2017 - C. J. Fain, based just north of the Magic Kingdom, brings a whimsical take on the horror genre with a unique and twisted collection of stories in a small e-book entitled, Terrible Tales, which is now available on Smashwords.com. The anthology is filled with political intrigue, murder, and few fantastical elements to even out the emotional spectrum.

Terrible Tales is comprised of three flash fiction stories including a tale of magic, politics, and religion in "The Witch Hunter's Guild." In a bleak and dangerous fantasy world, a young, empirical consort named Piero attempts to use everything in his power to convince his mentor and emperor to stop a ruthless church from taking over the kingdom of men.

In the tragic tale, "Merry Christmas, Mr. Murphy," a father wants to ensure that his daughter still has a wonderful Christmas after losing his job to machines at the local toy factory. His desire to obtain a teddy bear by any means necessary leads to the unthinkable as the story unfolds through a conversation with the interrogator.

The final story, "Stranger Choices," features Audrey who breaks down after her son refuses to visit her on what may be her deathbed. Eventually, she loses her want to live and succumbs to the pain. When all seems lost, a strange and otherworldly figure appears claiming to be "Death." Things get even more bizarre when Death decides that he does not want her yet.

Fain is currently enrolled at Full Sail University earning his BFA in Creative Writing for Entertainment. Look for some of his other work to be published on Storyshack.com in June of next year (2018). Also, "The Witch Hunters Guild" is a sneak peek at a much larger literary project with the working title of "The MadWorld Saga."

Terrible Tales can be found on the Smashwords website for FREE! Smashwords is the world's largest distributor of e-books and is connected to multiple major retailers and thousands of online libraries.

C. J. Fain
(770)-317-1933
cjfain@gmail.com
289 McKay Blvd.
Sanford, FL, 32771

###